PASSAGE 1

Read the article about Stefanos Tsitsipas and do TASK 3 below.

Stefanos Tsitsipas, a Greek professional tennis player, was born on 12 August 1998. Tsitsipas is the champion at the Association of Tennis Professionals (ATP) Finals, and is the youngest winner of the year-end championships.

It isn't just the Greeks that should be proud as Tsitsipas is the son of Greek tennis coach Apostolos Tsitsipas and former Russian champion Julia Apostoli so he is as fluent in the Russian language as he is in Greek. Stefanos has two younger brothers and a sister who are also tennis players.

Young Stefanos first started playing at a very young age – officially just aged six at the Tennis Club Glyfada. “My first memory is to be three and to hit balls with my father in the gap between lessons.” His father remembers his son waking him up in the middle of the night after a tournament in France at age nine telling him, “Dad, I have to tell you something: I want to become a tennis player, I like the competition, I like the challenge.”

It was a matter of time before he rose to the ranks of No. 1 junior. His breakout year was in 2016, reaching at least the quarterfinals of all eight tournaments that he played, including all four Grand Slams. Nowadays, he is the youngest player ranked in the top 10 by the ATP and is No. 5 in the world, making him the highest-ranked Greek player in history.

PASSAGE 2

Read the article about how to find the perfect flatmate and do TASK 4 below.

HOW TO FIND THE PERFECT FLATMATE

Choosing the right flatmate can be a major reason of living happily. Here are a few tips to help you find the perfect flatmate.

Decide what makes a perfect flatmate for you.

For some people the perfect flatmate is someone who stays quietly in their room. Others want someone who enjoys parties every night while others want to find someone who is as clean as they are. If you want to find the perfect flatmate, decide which type of person is a good flatmate for you.

Start your search with friends.

Be sure to let all of your close friends know you are looking for a flatmate. Your interests and living style are very similar to someone you are already friends with. Don't underestimate the power of posting a Facebook status as these "Facebook friends" can be very helpful on a flatmate search.

Meet in person!

The best way to know someone is to meet them in person. Lots of people can seem amazing via email or text messages but be completely different in person. Meet and ask a lot of questions about their living habits or what they would want in a flatmate. If they are hoping to find someone who wants to barbecue every night and you're a vegetarian that could be a problem.

If you end up living with someone who isn't right, try to talk to them. The sooner you talk about the problems the easier it is to solve them. If the person really ends up not working as a flatmate, don't be afraid to kick them out. After all, your happiness depends on living with the right group of people, too.
