CHERRY ICE CREAM

If it's one food that says summer, it has to be ice cream. We are very lucky to have a large cherry tree in the garden and it's full of cherries. They look and 1. (taste / smell) great; so today I'm making cherry ice cream. This is the first time to make this ice cream, so it's a bit of an 2. (experiment / experience) really. So, first I remove the stones to have about 650 gr of cherry skins. These I put in a blender and blend until smooth. Next, I 3. (sit / sieve) the cherries into a plastic beaker. I only want the cherry juice – no skins or anything else. So, my 650 gr of cherries I started with, gives me 400 ml of pure cherry juice. So next I 4. (add / mix) the sugar: 150 gr of sugar followed by the cream. I think 200 ml of cream is enough for this ice cream. And for more flavour, I add a spoonful of cassis, well actually maybe two spoons. Now, this is all 5. (whisked / beaten) together. So, the total amount is 700 ml. Perfect, because I'm going to put all of this in our ice cream 6. (maker / machine). But first of all it needs to cool, so thirty minutes in the 7. (fridge / freezer). So, now it's all ready to make ice cream. The machine needs to be turning before the mixture goes in. So, I give it one more whisk, 8. (pour / put) it in carefully, try not to spill anything. So, the ice cream machine is now turning for about 9. (fourteen / four) minutes for this and during that time the mixture becomes much thicker and there is a lot more volume. Now I pour the mixture into a plastic container – one suitable for a freezer. It's a little bit runny, perhaps there was too much cassis. Anyway, I put the lid on and it goes in the freezer and because it's quite runny, I'm going to leave it for 24 hours. So, wow! The ice cream is 10. (set / said). That's good. It looks good, but how does it taste? Well, you have to believe me. It is just wonderful! The taste of summer!
